SOCIETY

What will you investigate?

Partnership Grants of up to £3,000 are available for young people and their teachers to work in partnership with a qualified STEM researcher from academia or industry to carry out a research project in science, mathematics, computing, data science, technology or engineering.

The project must be investigative and supported by a teacher and a STEM professional (research or industry) in partnership.

Process and timeline

It is a two stage application process, which opens in February and closes at the end of November.

Depending on when you want to run your project, you can choose from three possible submission deadlines across the year.

Submission deadline	Project start date
1 End of April	October
2 End of June	January
3 End of November	April
